

Tom Zimmerman, a 17 years old resident of Sandpoint Idaho, has been entertaining family and friends since he was just a munchkin. Tom's charismatic magic shows as well as his homeschooling Christmas plays, and short film-making projects kick-started his theatrical journey. His very first stage performance began with a lead role when he was only ten years old. Recently, he gave a grand and fun performance as Old Joe in the renowned holiday classic, A Christmas Carol.

Thomas radiates humor and impact befitting of, not only stage performances, but also authorship. He began to write at a very young age, composing his own versions of The Hardy Boys and King Arthur as early on as 8 or 9 years of age.

Presently, The Legend of Eli Slusher is his first published book in a series of sought after, wholesomely uplifting tales for children of all ages. Tom is high spirited and seeks only to give glory to God. His work is thus, therapeutic to the soul.
