

KATHLEEN HUNTLEY BIO:

Kathleen was born in Los Angeles, California, however at a very young age discovered her love for the country. By the time she was twenty-one she owned ten acres in the Sierra foothills. She also was born with a natural curiosity and even though life swung more than a few curve balls Kathleen sought answers, solutions and mental health. She writes not from ego, but hopes that she may touch lives in an encouraging and empathetic manner while at the same time showing her readers ways out of tumultuous situations. Kathleen actually started writing at a very young age, but had to wait a few decades for publication. Currently she is researching the life of another brave woman whose story deserves to be told.

Her careers span from being a Criminal Law Specialist in the California State Prison System to a Montana Elementary School Teacher. She is a University of Idaho graduate.